DESCRIPTION OF LESSONS

PB101	Introduction to Pickleball – Learn safety; the Game; Rules; Fundamentals, including stance, grip, forehand and backhand strokes and how to serve; start playing a game to learn court positioning At this stage, you have been exposed to basic aspects of the game and rules and can begin to play at the neighborhood / social level. [Roughly equivalent to 1.0 Beginner .]
Beginner Practice/ Drills	Beginner Practice/Drills - Optional - Prerequisite PB 101. Work with an instructor to achieve a 70% level with serves, return of serves, scoring, and handling slower hit balls. Learn how to practice/drill to improve your play
PB102	Strokes - Prerequisite PB101 and practiced enough to have reached 70% performance level in serving, returning serves, scoring and handling slower hit balls, while playing in 20+ games. Review playing safely, practice basic strokes; learn new strokes, block shots, volleys, overheads and lobs. Play games while working on position and rules. (Roughly equivalent to 1.5 Beginner) If your physical condition precludes running to the net frequently, you will probably be most comfortable staying at this level of play. For those who are more active and want to be more competitive, there's more...
PB103	Essential Strategies - Prerequisites PB101 & PB102. Most players should improve their play by 50%. Best serve and return of serve strategies...correct court positioning, shot preparation like the pros...prime shot locations...best way to handle the bangers...lobs how to hit them & how to defend them PB103 graduates are at the 2.0 Beginner level .

At all levels of instruction we are recommending that students practice what they have learned for two weeks before they progress to the next class level. While you are in the Beginner Program, practice is very important to help you master your new skills. Look in the Recreation News or check the schedule above for Beginner Play. That is court time set aside for students so they can feel comfortable to develop their game with players at a similar level.

Once you “graduate” from PB103, look for Advanced Beginner Play times. As your play and confidence level improves, you'll be interested in Open Play times. All courts are Open Play from 7-10am and at many other times during the day when nothing else is scheduled. You'll soon be a 2.5 Advanced Beginner.
